DIFFERENCES ACCIDENT.

Last week a heart-rending secident occurred at the meath of the White River, which I presume you have no yet learned of. The two Mis. Camp bell and a sister of their husband, were being ferried over the White River by a lad aged about 14. The ferry boat was simply a couple of large logs pinned together and duy out something in the abase of aconce. When about half way across the river the rade boat careened and dipped water, filling about half full. The unfortunate ladies became frightened and sprang into the river, and although there were several men on the rank they were all drowned. The two Mrs. Campbell were daughter of Joseph Frane, of Centreville. The husband and brother of the unfortunate ladies were not present went he sad affair occurred, but I am is formed that he cannot now be induced to leave the scene of his breasement, but waits back and forth along the banks of the atream, vally seeking the bedies of the lover ones, who are meet likely at this time far down the casin of the content of tourned the present went to be sent to the Wind River Reservation for a visit of ceremony to Washakie, chief of the Arraphines.
